5. Northerly along the wall of the Well fish pond to the point of commencement.

Containing an area of 8.4 acres, a little more or less.

The larger portion of this land is under lease to the Wagner Stock Yards Co. at an annual rental of $600, the lease has a long period yet to run and at the expiration of the lease all the buildings revert to the owner of the property. In addition to a good steady income from this property there is a good chance that the property will increase very materially in value as this land practically controls the waterfront to the easterly side of the Kalihi channel.

Smith, room 207 Judice Building. Maps of all these properties will be on display at J. F. Morgan's auction rooms for a week before the sale.

AH KAI IS IN TROUBLE

Got Away With Jap Friend's Clothes.

McDuffie Got Him to Give Up Hidden Spoil.

Had Five Suits In Bushes on River Street—Suspected Before.

Detective Arthur McDuffie added another bit of clever detective work to his already long record last night when he completed the chain of evidence which will probably make Ah Kai, an innocent-looking Chinaman, the guest of the Territory at its palatial stone hotel on Iwilei road for some time to come. In spite of his meek appearance it is evident that Ah Kai is a slick one, but the detective was one too many for him and he fell.

It seems that Ah Kai was well acquainted with the Japanese cook employed at Judge Perry's place at 166 School street and last week went up to the Perry place to spend the evening with his friend. While there a suggestion was made that they go down town and thereupon the two set out. The Japanese had proceeded as far as Kukui and Nuuanu streets when he turned to speak to his friend and to his astonishment found that he had disappeared. Instantly he became suspicious of trouble and returned to the house as fast as possible. When he arrived there he found that all the clothes he possessed, five suits, had disappeared and he at once fixed his suspicions on Ah Kai. Detective McDuffie was put upon the case and has been at work at the difficult task of fixing the crime on the man.

There were several things that seemed to give Ah Kai a bad reputation, but it was almost impossible to bring any direct proof. Before he was employed at the Perry place the Japanese cook had been at work on the Waipahu plantation and when he came to town of course the Chinese cooks of the city were ready to welcome their country cousin, for it is well known that "Rubes" generally carry a sack of coin with them which looks good to the city sharper. As fate would have it this particular countryman took a room near that occupied by the subtle and designing Ah Kai and when one day the Japanese lost ten dollars from his clothes while out buying a duck for supper, he accused Ah Kai for the theft. Nothing could be proved, however, and apparently they became good friends again.

After working on the case several days McDuffie concluded that it was time to take an open step and yesterday afternoon the Chinese was arrested and held for investigation. Last night the detective gave him a thorough sweating with the result that he confessed the whole affair and volunteered to show where he had hidden the stolen clothes. Four of the suits he had hidden in the bushes on the Ewa side of Nuuanu stream near School street and one coat had been thrust under a Chinese house on the Waikiki side farther down stream. The clothes, described by the Japanese as his best, did not have the appearance of "Sunday-go-to-meeting" suits, but they are good enough to put Ah Kai in danger of a term on the reef for larceny.

GREAT REAL ESTATE SALE TODAY NOON

At 12 o'clock noon today the second great sale, by order of the executor, of properties in the estate of the late W. Luther Wilcox will take place at Morgan's auction room, Kaahumanu street. Great interest continuing to be shown by conservative minded men in this sale indicates that the properties are receiving their very close attention as objects of reproductive investment.

Nothing need be added to the liberal advertising the sale has received in this paper by way of exploiting the values of the different properties to be offered today. They comprise fine residence locations, rich agricultural lands and situations having close relation to the Army Post and future harbor extension.

Inquiries for information will receive cordial attention at Morgan's sales-rooms right up to the hour of sale.

A curious character came up recently for trial in Paris in the person of Auguste Baumann, charged with the attempted murder of Abbe Lebel in November last. Baumann's own description of himself is as follows: "I am not an anarchist, I am a 'revolte,' and independent; I support no particular theory, I have no grudge against Abbe Lebel, but I am opposed on principle to all priests, soldiers, magistrates and professors. Desirous of ending my life, I have given myself up as a prisoner, and demand to be sent to the guillotine." The court could not quite see its way to grant this request, but awarded the prisoner fifteen years' penal servitude, with ten years' exile to follow.
